REHEARSAL.

1. The Gan-powder-Plot Day. More Cruel Death Intended by some.
2. I mean not the Old Puritans.

3. It is in the Observator Reviv'd. But not yet told.

4. Why I engag'd with former Observator, and not till now with this.

5. His Mis-representation of Affairs in Scotland. With a Short Account of the Rabbeling of the Clergy there, in the year 1688. And what Remedy the Convention gave them. The White Regiment, and Mr. Tol-d.

WEDNESDAY, November 5th. 1707.

(1.) Country-man. His is a Day wherein Treasons were Discover'd. And may they all be Discover'd in time, and Prevented hereafter. Now what have you to fay, Master, suitable to the Occasion?

Rehearfal. I have fomething to tell you more Gruel than Death, than the Gunpowder-Death Defign'd, Except the Quality of the Perfons Concern'd. For Gun-powder do's its work all at once, and we are foon out of Pain. all at once, and we are toon out of Pain. But a Lingring Death is more Cruel, tho' it makes not so much Noise; when a man can See Death Marching on, and Tast it, and Feel it in every Part: This is many Deaths, and gives Death all its Pomp: It Feeds his Eyes, as well as Fills his Maw: He Epicarizes, and Smacks at every Bie of us, but when he comes in Cannon-Bullet he has but one Gulp.

Country-m. What Terrible Death is this you are Discribing? Come, don't Imitate it, and keep me in Suspece, let me know what you mean by all this.

Rehears. I have more to fay yet, it is a Death which has not done when you are Dead, but Chews the Cud, and brings you up again, to be Deveur'd afresh every Moment. And this for Ages together, even to the End of the World.

Country-m. This is Greedy-Death indeed!

And next to Eternal Death!

Rehears. Nay, with all this it will Perfuade you, that it do's you no Harm, that it is Kind to you, and will Boast of its Great Moderation!

Country m. This is Infulting even beyond Death! Ther is some Relief in Piry, tho' it cannot Help us. But you Exclude all Mercy. But fare you cannot give an In-flance of any thing like this, in any Man Alive, at least among Christians? (2.) Rebearf. Yes, Country-man, among those who Call themselves the Purest Christians, whence they had once the Name of Puritans.

Country-m. Don't bring in your Old Stories. That Age is Past and gon. They'll tell you Rake into Former Days, and can talk of Nothing but Forty One, or the Times before it. I said, That no Man Alive cou'd be Charg'd with all this Discription of Cruely you have given.

(3.) Rehearf. I know not whether he is Alive or not. He calls himself Reviv'd that is, the Ghost of the late Observator.

Country m. O, is it he you mean? you'll get no Honour in Meddling with him. You have taken no Notice of him hitherto, tho' he has Pelted you in all his Papers; he wou'd fain have you come out and Play with him a little, as you did fometimes with his Predecessor. He thinks it wou'd give him Credit.

(4.) Rebears. Ther was a Reason for my Engaging with Tutchin, De Foe, &c. at the Beginning, that I might gain my self to be heard, when I came to speak of Serious Matters, which was not so he had rious Matters, which was not to be done without a little Feeling at first, to Draw in those unthinking People, who are Pleas'd with nothing else. But that is now pretty well over; and I wou'd not bear the Drudgery longer than it was Necessary. Therefor as I turn'd off the Old Observator in time, at Num. 50. of the first Volume, I intended not to Dirry my self with his Successors, who go on in the same Track of Nonsense and Slander.

(5.) But the Cafe I am now upon is fo Moving, and the Mischief this Mis-represen-ter may do is so Apparent, in misleading many People who know not the Matter, that I cou'd no longer forbear. The Case in short is this. We all Know and Feel the Lamentable Downfal of Episcopacy in Scotland fince the Revolution. And that it might never Rife again, the Defign was to get Rid of the Episcopal Clergy then alive: And the Universities and Schools being put into the Hands of the Kirk, they would be the South of the Kirk, they would be the South of the Kirk, they would be the South of the Kirk of the South of the Kirk, they would be the South of the Kirk of the Kirk of the South of the Kirk of the Kirk of the South of the Kirk of the K take Care ther flou'd be no Succession. The first Step was to Holloo the Armed Rabble upon the Episcopal Clergy in the Western Shires, where most of the Presbyterians grow. These put the Clergy under Military Execution, and turn'd them out not only of their Churches, but their Honses, and the very Cloubs on their Backs, and some of them out of their Lives too. And to be them out of their Lives too. And to be them out of their Lives too. And to be Profane'y Witty in their Malice, they began this Ratbling upon Christmass-Day 1688. In this Dismal Condition the Clergy sent Dr. Scot Dean of Glasgow, who with Dr. Fall Principal of the College of Glasgow, now Precentor of Tork, did Represent to the Prince of Orange then at London, the Deplocable Circumstances of the Clergy in these rable Circumstances of the Clergy in these Parts, and Pray'd his Highness's Protection, the Government in Scotland being Dissolv'd, or in the utmost Consusion, upon the late King having withdrawn himself. And they had the greater Reason to Expect the Proecction at least of that Prince, because that in his Declaration to Scotland, Dated at the Hague the 10th. of October 1688, he faithfully Promised to Preserve their Church, as then by Law Establish'd, from any Alteration.

And said it was the Chief end of his coming hither? But all the Answer he gave to this Representation of the Clergy was to Refer them to the next Convention or Meeting of Estates, as they Call'd it there, which did not meet till the 14th. of March following lausil which time the Rabble Rang'd with full Licence, And made a shift to Mobb about three hundred Clergy-Men out of their Churches, in a most Barbarous manner hardly to be Equall'd in any Age, of which we had large and full Accounts Printed where at that time, with undeniable Vouchers.

Country-m. I remember to have feen fome of them, and they were Terrible indeed! But I suppose when the Convention met, that Honourable Assembly did Punish the Ring-leaders of that Brutal Mobb, and Restored those Clergy Men who had been so Barbarously Treated to their Churches again, whence they had been so Violenly and Illigally thrust out.

Rebearf. So one wou'd have Expected from any but moderare Presbyterians! But Countryman, it was so far from that, That by their All, 13. April 1689, they deny'd the Protection of the Government to those Clergy-

Men who had been Rabbl'd before that . Men who had been Rabbi d before that Day, and were not then in Possession of their Churches. And, being turn'd into a Parliament, by their Ast 7. June 1690, they Declar'd those Rabbi'd Glergy to have Deferted their Churches, and therefore Adjudg'd the Research of the Rabbi Country and Order of the Rabbi. them to be Vacant; And Order'd the Pres-byterian Ministers, who had been Industed into them by the Mobb, to Continue their Possession, and have Right to the Benefices and Supends, according to their Entry in the Tean 1689. And they Return'd Thanks and Bibles to the Mobb for their Zeal! But the Mobb of Glasgow having more Eminently Distinguish'd themselves in this Rabbling of the Clergy, particular Favours were Granted to that City by the 15 Att of 2 Seff. of 1. Parl. of K. W. and Q. M. as it is Express'd in the Alt, for the Zeal of the Community of the Said City for the Protestant Religion. This City is Famous for what they call the White Regiment there, that is, of Women (Maggy Steen the Colonel) who Dragg'd the Episcopal Minister out of the Church there, in Such an Indicate Manneau as is not for in fuch an Undecent Manner as is not fit to be Nam'd; but it Coft him his Life. Mr. Tol-d, then a Student in the University there, can tell us a great deal of these matters, if he please; for I am Inform'd that he was a Principle Agent and Promoter on the fide of the White Regiment: So early he began with the Church! And the New Observator lays himself out to Vindicat these Doings, which has oblig'd me to mention them. And I shall disprove him further in my next and shew his wicked Defent. in my next, and shew his wicked Defign.
